

National Trust

Painted by Lt. Marshall Lee.
10th Flotilla U.S. Coastguard.

Greenway, Devon

Painted frieze in the Library, done by a US Navy officer in 1943

National Trust Images/Nadia Mackenzie · 155600

For more information visit www.nationaltrust.org.uk

To buy a print visit www.ntprints.com

Registered Charity no. 205846 © National Trust 2011

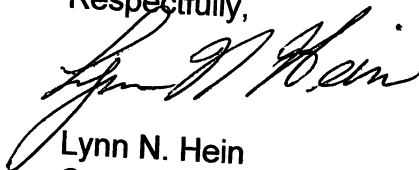

HISTORIAN, USCG

July 15, 2013

I received this postcard from an acquaintance in England. They had been visiting Agatha Christie's home in Devon, England where they noted the frieze in the library had been painted by a USCG officer when he was quartered there during the war. The Smithsonian magazine also had an article on her house (including the frieze) a years or so ago.

I thought your office would be interested in this and wasn't sure if you had information on this tidbit of history.

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Lynn N. Hein". The signature is fluid and cursive, written over the typed name.

Lynn N. Hein
Captain, USCG (Ret)